The 14th International Orthodontic Symposium 2016 will take place in the Kaiserstein palace. The address of the palace is Malostranské náměstí 23/37 Prague 1. An ideal place for meetings from the times of High Baroque For more than three centuries, we have had many satisfied and famous guests. The Kaiserstein palace received a Baroque reconstruction initiated by Sir Kaiserstein but completed by Petr Radecky (1699–1720). In 1859 a monument of marshal Radecký was built on the square. In 1866, Václav Petzold, a hotel-owner, bought the palace and opened an exclusive restaurant. For the next hundred years it was called “U Petzoldu”. The famous opera singer Emmy Destinn, a partner of Enrico Caruso, rented an apartment there (1904-1908). A total reconstruction began under the architects Zdeňek Pokorný and Jaroslav Bečák in 1977. In 1981 the palace has been registered as a UNESCO heritage site. In 1997 restitution procedures were completed and the palace was returned to its original owners.

Dear Colleagues!

Again, we invite you to attend the 14th International Orthodontic Symposium (IOS) in Prague November 24th – 26th, 2016. This time, the motto will be “The Four Seasons In Orthodontics. What does that mean? We all know that patients of all ages seek orthodontic treatment – it is long ago that only children and adolescents were the typical patients in our field of medicine. Children, even newborn children may be addressed as the first season of orthodontic patients. The second season is made up by our adolescent patients, and in the third season, our adult patients are found. And according to the success of general dentistry, even highly aged patients live with their own teeth, and as teeth do not stand stable within bone, they also require orthodontic treatment in several cases. This group of patients is our fourth season in orthodontics. And we invite you as the experts to share the knowledge and to network for ongoing international education.

We have invited outstanding speakers who will cover further aspects of all of these four seasons in orthodontics. And we invite you as the participants, coming from more than 30 nations, to share this international orthodontic congress with its familiar atmosphere, where our young orthodontists come together with the more advanced experts to share the knowledge and to network for ongoing international education.

I am looking forward to seeing you all again in Prague!
